

Rodica POP is professor emerita and a member of the Doctoral School for Linguistic and Literary Studies at the Babes-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca, Romania. She has been a doctoral advisor since 1999. Her areas of expertise are French literature, Belgian literature, Francophone comparative studies and Traductology. She has published numerous works – non-fiction, critical editions, essays, and collections on Julien Green, Marguerite Yourcenar, Michel de Ghelderode and on cross-sectional topics such as inter-generational relations, the fantastic in arts and literature and literary bilingualism. She is the author of over a hundred studies and articles published in specialized publications in Romania and abroad.

Professor Pop is the coordinator and founder of the Center for Belgian Francophone Literature Studies, created in 1990. Since its inception, the Center has formed a young and dynamic team of researchers, who have worked on numerous projects, such as publications, colloquiums and research grants.

As a translator, Dr Pop has initiated the “Belgica.ro”, a literary translations series at Casa Cartii de Stiinta Publishing House whose aim is to translate Belgian Francophone authors. Young researchers who work at the Center are also involved in this program.

In 2009, Ms. Pop was awarded the Doctor Honoris Causa title at the Blaise Pascal University in Clermont-Ferrand, France.
